Seasoned healthcare industry executive joins Best Doctors, Inc. as Vice President of Corporate Operations

October 31, 2006 — Boston Continuing its development of a successful and experienced leadership team, Best Doctors, announced today that Peter Dunphy joined the company as Vice President, Corporate Operations.

"We are very pleased to welcome Peter to our team," said Evan Falchuk, President and COO of Best Doctors, Inc. "Our ability to attract outstanding talent like Peter is a reflection of the impact the Best Doctors services make on the people we serve as well as the company's unique position in the market."

Mr. Dunphy's arrival comes at a time when employers and health plans are increasingly looking for solutions to the rising cost of care. Mr. Dunphy's extensive experience in this area enhances Best Doctors capacity to serve these clients and further demonstrate the impact of the company's services.

Mr. Dunphy has over 20 years of healthcare and technology business experience. Mr. Dunphy most recently was an Executive Vice President at ActiveHealth Management, now a subsidiary of Aetna, Inc. (NYSE: AET), where he played a key role in that company's growth and integration with health plans and employers. Previously, Mr. Dunphy held senior management positions at Quest Diagnostics and Corning Incorporated. Peter holds an MBA from Columbia Business School and a BS in Chemical Engineering from the University at Buffalo.

"In my career in addressing the problems in healthcare, I have never seen a service that makes such an impact on people's lives, and which has such an effect on the overall cost and quality of care," said Mr. Dunphy. "It was because of this vision that I decided to join Best Doctors and I am proud to be part of the effort to make this service available to as many people as possible."
